

House Group Passes Veteran Pension Bill

Committee Divided On Issues

Washington, May 11—(AP)—Pensions of $72 a month for the low-income, unemployable veteran over 65 were approved today by a sharply divided house veterans committee.

Chairman Rankin (D-Miss), who sought unsuccessfully in March to get pensions of $90 a month for all aged veterans, angrily denounced restrictions in the new bill as a "blow" to many ex-servicemen.

But Rep. Teague (D-Tex.), a wounded and much-decorated World War II veteran, said the employment qualification was the only reasonable approach.

"There's no reason why we should pay pensions to perfectly able veterans for just sitting around," he said.

Regulated As VA
The new proposal for the most part simply liberalizes and writes into a general pension law already existing discretionary regulations of the veterans administration.

Its broad effect, however, would be to take from the veterans administrator and give to congress all authority to change pension rates now in force.

Committee estimates put at around $10,000,000,000 the increased benefits which would be added to current government outlays for all forms of veterans benefits during the next 30 years.

VA estimated this total, including the $10,000,000,000 contemplated in the bill, would run between $44,000,000,000 and $47,000,000,000 by the year 2000.

The committee approved, by a reported 14-8 division, a restriction offered by Rep. Teague denying pensions to veterans able to work more than half their normal time.

This proviso follows present VA regulations.

His Economy Act of 1933
Rankin called it "the worst blow World War I veterans have received since the economy act of 1933." The 1933 act cut down veterans compensation.

Rankin was reported to have threatened to oppose the bill before the House.

Although the bill originally omitted the unemployability limitation, the committee voted to include it at the last minute when cost figures indicated its omission would add another $20,000,000,000 to the total.

To be eligible for a pension under the bill, a veteran must have an income of less than $1,200 if single or $2,500 if he was dependents. The bill liberalizes present VA figures by increasing from $1,000 to $1,200 the income limit for unmarried veterans.

Pensions of $72 a month would go to any veteran at age 65 who met the employability and income qualifications.

Helpless veterans requiring an attendant would get $100 a month.

Crime Commission Bills Rejected By Judiciary Group

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(P)—The Illinois House Judiciary committee today rejected three Chicago crime commission bills including one to extend the Cook county grand jury to 90 days.

The action in effect was a defeat for Governor Stevenson, Mayor Kennedy and State's Attorney John Boyle of Chicago, who endorsed the measures.

By a narrow vote margin, the committee hung a "do not pass" tag on the grand jury bill, rather than to revise the law on oaths, and the third to grant official immunity to witnesses. At present, the Cook county grand jury is limited to 30 days.

Before the vote, corporation counsel Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago read to the committee a telegram from Kennedy favoring the bills.

The three bills previously passed the Senate. The only way they can be revived is by a vote of the entire House to disagree with the committee's findings. Such a move is seldom tried or successful.

U. N. Admits Israel; Arab States Walk Out

New York, May 11—(P)—Israel was admitted to the United Nations tonight as the 59th member. The Arab delegations in the U. N. then walked out of the general assembly.

The vote admitting Israel was 37 to 12. Nine countries abstained. None of the 58 members was absent.

The vote, announced at 5:30 p.m. (CST), was the end of a battle of more than two years by Israel for national recognition in the U. N.

The United States, Russia, China and France voted to admit Israel. Britain abstained, along with Belgium, Brazil, Denmark, El Salvador, Greece, Siam, Sweden and Turkey.

India's delegation left the hall with the six Arab countries.

Later Indian delegate Sardar H. S. Malik told reporters at Lake Success he merely left the hall to keep an appointment. He said he was not aware of the Arab plan to walk out and his action had no connection with it.

The Arab delegations went immediately to their hotels without clarifying their positions.

A member of the Iraqi delegation said: "We are now out. That is all we can say. No more comment."

He was asked whether this meant they were out of the U. N. for good. "I can't answer that now," he said, "you will see."

Charles Malik, Lebanon, said "I will not answer any questions." Egyptian delegate Mahmoud Bey Fawzi also declined comment. One of Yemen's delegates said: "You'll know later."

This was the second walk-out by the Arabs. They left the assembly hall again on Nov. 29, 1947, when the assembly voted 33 to 13 to partition Palestine into Jewish and Arab states.

Stockberger testified for the prosecution that Hattman, 29, a St. Louis electrical engineer, took his car to the garage between 5 and 6 p.m.

Move To Broaden Sales Tax Revenue Passed By Group

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(P)—Legislation broadening the two per cent state sales tax to include contractors, repair services and special order businesses was endorsed today by the Illinois House Revenue committee.

The three bills were sent out for a hearing by the entire House at the urging of Governor Stevenson's legislative liaison man, Director Richard J. Daley of the state revenue department.

Daley told the committee some expenditures in the governor's $127,600,000 budget for the next two years hinged on the fate of the sales tax extension bills.

Stevenson figures on $50,000,000 from the new revenue source. If the bills fail to get legislative approval, a new money raising plan will have to be worked out, Daley said.

Rep. James J. Ryan (D-Chicago), majority floor leader, said if the program fell through, reductions might have to be made in the governor's $112,000,000 school aid plan.

"We are now out. That is all we can say. No more comment."

Traffic Barriers Go Down As Blockade Of Berlin Ends

Illinois Committee Votes Against Sale Of Colored Oleo

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(P)—The dairy cow won out today over advocates of selling colored margarine.

The Illinois Senate agriculture committee voted 7-3 against scrapping a 52-year-old law prohibiting sale of colored oleo. A bill to repeal the law now goes to the Senate floor with a "do not pass" recommendation about 40 dairy farmers and creamery men appeared at the committee hearing to oppose the bill.

Robert Erickson of Mt. Sterling, who is in the creamery business, urged the committee to "keep the law so when you eat a yellow spread, you know it comes from the cow."

Senator Elbert S. Smith (R-Decatur), who doesn't think housewives should have to spend 20 minutes mixing the color into Oleo, said butter doesn't claim an exclusive right to the color yellow.

Erickson replied that "nature gave butter that right."

Senator Russell A. Waters (D-Beverly) said he's churned a good deal of butter and "in the dark months it's more white than it is yellow."

Senator Milton M. Mueller (R-Highland), a dairy farmer who also has done a bit of butter churning, claimed waters raised the wrong kind of cows.

Truck operators testified against a gas tax increase.

Springfield, Ill., May 11—(P)—Two trucking operators declared today the state has sufficient money to keep the road system in good repair without increasing gasoline taxes.

They testified at a Senate Highway committee hearing on bills for a two-cent state gasoline tax boost and higher motor vehicle license as part of a program to overhaul roads.

"I don't know of any major rebuilding program that needs to be done on our highways," said John Viking, Waukegan truck operator.

"Rather than a big building program, the state should widen and repair the roads we have," he added.

The other witness was Chester Moore of the Central Freight association, Chicago. He said he would not oppose higher taxes "if I wasn't sure we can have good roads without more tax money."

Proponents of the program were heard by the committee last week. No action has been taken on the bills as yet.

Senator Simon P. Lantz (R-Concord) asked the two truckers: "How can you object to a tax increase to rebuild roads which overloaded trucks have ruined?"

Berlin Is 'Open City' Again

This map shows how Berlin is isolated within the Russian zone of Germany and spots land routes that will be open to the Allies once the Berlin blockade is lifted. Inset shows the four sectors of the city and Gatow and Tempelhof airfields, famed airport terminals.

Berlin, Thursday, May 12—(AP)—The 327-day Soviet blockade of Berlin ended today with the airlift still going full tilt.

Traffic barriers went down all along the 1,000-mile cold war front in Germany.

The first automobile crossed the Soviet zone into Berlin at 1:46 a.m. Berlin time (5:46 p.m., central standard time, Wednesday), ending Berlin's isolation from the west by road.

Berlin Train Cleared
Nine minutes later the Russians in Marienborn, 10 miles inside the Soviet zone, cleared the first train and waved it on to Berlin.

Thus ended the dependence of 2,000,000 West Berliners on British and American planes for food and fuel. But the airlift was going ahead at full schedule, and pilots said their instructions were to keep right on for at least 30 days.

But then it appeared likely the western powers will know whether Russia is going to seek full agreement on the future of Germany or is likely to clamp down again on the blockade she imposed June 26, 1948.

Every indication, however, was that the Russians were going all the way in lifting traffic barriers as agreed by the four powers in New York May 4.

Soldiers Greet One Another
All along the border Soviet soldiers and guards were greeting British, Americans and West Germans.

Only here and there were there tiny rifts in the generally smooth operation of restoring ground traffic communications with Berlin and lifting the western powers' counter-blockade of the eastern zone.

Sped by cheers of hundreds of German spectators a British military train pulled into the Soviet zone at Helmstedt toward Berlin at 1:26 a.m. (5:26 p.m., central standard time, Wednesday).

It was pulled by a Soviet zone locomotive as the result of a British-American agreement to last minute Soviet demands.

The first test of the actual lifting of the blockade was at Marienborn, 10 miles inside the Soviet zone, where it had to pass a Soviet check of its papers.

29 Minutes To Reach Checkpoint
It took only 29 minutes to reach the checkpoint and get the Soviet okay. The train consisted of 12 coaches and carried mostly newspapermen and officials.

The first automobile reaching Berlin was driven by a newspaperman who said "nothing happened all the way. We came right through."

Other cars followed in quick succession. They had left Helmstedt, 100 miles west on the Soviet zone's main border, six minutes after the agreed time to lift the blockade.

In Berlin, promptly on the dot a minute past midnight (4:01 p.m., central standard time Wednesday), about 75 automobiles began the race down the highway from that city to the west.

Five minutes later the first cars moved out of Helmstedt toward Berlin and Soviet checkpoints. They reached Berlin one hour and 40 minutes later, ending the highway blockade.

EDUCATION WITHOUT SEGREGATION
WON'T GET THROUGH CONGRESS

An equal opportunity for Americans to get a decent education is a fundamental concept of our democracy. And it seems too bad to have to say anything cynical about a proposal that apparently would guarantee that opportunity. Yet it is difficult to feel much disappointment in the Senate's rejection of an amendment which would withhold federal funds for education from states that practice segregation in their schools.

There have been such amendments in the past to several bills for federal aid to both education and housing. When they have been adopted, the bills have invariably failed. But the latest amendment, to the pending education bill, was offered by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, and was turned down.

Because some states do practice segregation, like it or not, these amendments make it necessary to ask a blunt question: Are they offered to make the bills more fair and democratic, or are they offered in order to ensure their defeat?

Whatever the motive, the practical result has always been the same. Insistence on non-segregation automatically kills these federal aid measures. But the circumstances offer any opponents of such aid a golden opportunity. Their arguments are plausible, high-minded and in the best American tradition. No one can question their sincerity without seeming to offer them a gratuitous insult. They can achieve their ends in an aura of virtue.

In addition, Republican authors of these amendments have usually been able to cause some of their Northern Democratic colleagues considerable embarrassment. We don't say that it has been deliberate. But it has left these Northerners with a choice of seeming to endorse segregation, which is against their party's professed principles, or of splitting their party vote and siding with the GOP against the Southern Democratic wing.

But this year most of the Senate's Democrats made the same choice. The sentiments of many of them were probably expressed by freshman Senator Humphrey of Minnesota, author of the civil rights plank in the Democratic platform, when he said, "As much as I detest segregation, I love education more. The issue is federal aid or no federal aid."

If segregation ever is abolished, its end almost certainly will come only after a long, slow, disputed process of social and economic change. In the meantime, an educational situation which is bad in many states is growing worse.

The situation is too familiar to need dwelling on. Millions of American children are getting poor schooling or no schooling at all simply because the level of teachers' pay in their states is too low to attract competent people to the profession.

It will never be possible to achieve a uniform level of education as long as the states, with their great difference in wealth and population, control it. But at least it should be possible with federal aid to improve substandard conditions and raise the educational level somewhere near where it should be.

A federal education bill without a non-segregation clause may be a compromise. But as between better education in the segregation states and no help at all, the choice seems clear.

PROPOSALS FOR CHINESE AID
CALL FOR CAREFUL CHECKING

Gen. Clare Chennault is admittedly prejudiced in the Chinese Nationalists' favor, but he certainly knows his China. He has fought with the Chinese and lived with them for years. He knows the country and the people, their strengths and their weaknesses. So it is probably a presumption even to question his recommendations of policy toward China.

Yet we find it hard to see how they would save that country from communism. There is nothing novel in the general's proposed solution. He would have the United States undertake a new program of military and economic assistance. He estimates the cost at $350,000,000 a year. How he arrived at this figure he does not say. But his guess is probable as good as anyone's.

He does not suggest that American troops be sent to China. But he points out that there are still available "vast stockpiles of arms and materials lying in the Philippines and Pacific bases." With these, he told a Senate committee, "a new Chinese resistance may yet be armed."

"The thing lacking in China," General Chennault said, "is a reasonable hope of defensive victory to give the will to resist. This we can create if we choose."

If that is the only thing needed to turn the tide in China, then we should certainly choose to create it. But if one may form a remote-control opinion from news accounts of the Chinese civil war, it would seem that there could be other obstacles to a Nationalist survival.

This opinion is based on the assumption that the news accounts are accurate. If they are, then the Nationalists started out the war with modern American equipment superior in quality and quantity to the Communists. A vast amount of that equipment has now fallen into Communist hands. Have we any assurance that by providing millions worth of further equipment America could revive a will to resist and reverse the whole picture?

There have been fairly recent stories of rifts between the Nationalist groups headed by Generalissimo Chiang and acting President Li. There have been stories of war-weary cities which took truce negotiations out of the government's hands and made peace with the Communists themselves. And, of course, there are the old stories of a corrupt government which cannot have made the sorry lot of the average Chinese any easier.

Something must be done in the East, and any suggestion for an American policy there is better than none. But it does seem that there should be as careful a check as possible on the contention that more material aid from us will solve China's problems.

America has already spent many millions for that purpose in what, up to now, has been a losing operation. Congress certainly ought not to rush ahead and appropriate hundreds of millions more without at least a reasonable hope that the "vast stockpiles" which General Chennault mentioned would not end up as tools of the Communists, rather than as American weapons in Pacific outposts where they may be needed later.

PINNED DOWN

Minor disaster struck the Pentagon Building the other day when, at 12:10 p.m., the lights went off. Generals, admirals and smaller fry were immobilized. Work stopped. So did lunch.

Can it be that our top brass is getting a little soft? We don't know, but we don't like the symptoms. All we can say is that if the time has come when officers can't even take their vitals at high noon without the aid of electric light, we hate to think what might happen to the military if an even direr emergency should some day overtake it.

Mrs. Pasel To Speak
At May Breakfast

Mrs. Lawrence Pasel has been secured by the Jacksonville Woman's club as the speaker for its annual May Breakfast, to be held Saturday, May 14, at 12:15 p.m. in the banquet room of the Dunlap hotel.

Mrs. Pasel is a native of Illinois. She studied two years at the University of Illinois, later transferring to Syracuse university in New York, where she received her degree.

She was head of the Radio Workshop at St. Lawrence university in New York before coming to Jacksonville two years ago with her husband, who is professor of economics at Illinois college.

The musical portion of the program will be presented by Mrs. Ethlyn Cuddy, soloist, with Mrs. Mae Hecker as accompanist.

Close Of Season
The breakfast Saturday will mark the close of the season for the club, which is now in its 52nd year.

The club has a membership of 320, making it the largest in the Twentieth District of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. On the basis of this, it has been awarded the silver membership trophy.

Since its inception in 1887, the club has always ranked as one of the leading organizations in promoting the betterment of the community.

Supports Many Projects
During the past two years, under the leadership of Mrs. Fletcher J. Blackburn, the club has taken great strides in the fields of social welfare and public improvement. Besides numerous local projects, the club also enthusiastically supports various state and national projects.

A report of the club's activities during the 1948-1949 season was presented by Mrs. Blackburn at the final meeting of the executive board, held Tuesday morning in the Farmer's Bank building.

Final reports were also submitted by the various department chairmen, including legislation, citizenship, American home, music, veterans' service, youth conservation, education, social and public welfare, art work, both local and state, Trail Rangers and Park Ridge School for Girls.

Votes Several Donations
A donation of $150 was voted for Passavant Memorial Area hospital. This, combined with a previous donation of $150, will be used to furnish a room at the hospital.

Other local donations included $100 for the Oaklawn Sanatorium Stove fund and lesser amounts to the Community Chest, Red Cross and Youth Center.

State and national projects to receive contributions are the art fund, Danville veterans' chapel, blind babies, Park Ridge School for Girls, Trail Rangers, occupational therapy, scholarship, Indian welfare, cancer, student loan and overseas education.

It was announced that dues for the coming year will be payable at the meeting Saturday. Reservations for the breakfast must be made not later than Thursday noon with Mrs. Vernon Scholfield, chairman.

Boyle's Column

The Man Behind The Disc Jockeys
By HAL BOYLE
New York—Write a hit song—and there's $30,000 to $35,000 in it for you.

"And everybody in America today seems to be trying to write a hit song except me," says Manie Sacks, the man behind many a disc jockey. Manie knows better than to try. The odds are too high.

As head of artists and repertoire for Columbia Records, Sacks selects the songs for a firm which mints some 53,000,000 phonograph records a year.

After a quarter century in the music industry, Manie, a small, sensitive-looking man of 43, is convinced there is no formula for turning out a hit tune.

"Anybody who tells you he can write a sure hit is as crazy as a guy who says he knows how a horse race is going to turn out."

Amateurs' Hits Scarce
Besides reviewing the grist submitted by professional song publishers, Manie and his assistants look over 100 to 150 songs by amateurs each week.

"Only one or two a year by unknown writers turn out to be worth recording," he said.

A current example is "Riders in the Sky," written by a western frontier ranger and popularized by Burl Ives, the folk singer.

"The ranger ought to make $30,000 from it," said Manie. "Anyway he can quit looking for fires."

The record market is in a slump and buyers are becoming more selective. "They don't just want a record anymore," Manie grinned. "They want a production. Along with the dance band music they want singers or a choral group—at least some extra gimmick."

Last 4 to 6 Months
Today any record that sells to 250,000 customers is highly successful. Only five or six records a year make the real hit class—1,000,000 or more. And they last only four to six months at the top.

"One of the reasons the industry is off is that too many song writers are turning out tunes like they were hosiery or cigarettes—on a mass production basis," said Sacks.

"Men like Oscar Hammerstein, Cole Porter or Irving Berlin don't work that way. It is a matter of ego with them to turn out really successful songs."

"So they work on them and change them around until they have them right."

"Berlin has 16 songs in his next musical show, 'Miss Liberty.' He did at least eight of them five times over. Lyrics as well as music. He never tries to make quantity take the place of quality."

Final Rites For Mrs. Estelle Staff Held Wednesday
Services in memory of Mrs. Estelle E. Staff were held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Cody and Son Memorial Home with the Rev. Frank Marston officiating.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Lois Hardin, soloist, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Ralph Hutchison. Caring for the floral tributes were Mrs. Ellis Branner, Mrs. Lena Muehlhausen, Mrs. Louis Wahl and Miss Jean Lantz.

The pallbearers were Pryor Bosarte, Harry Crabtree, Byron Holkenbrink, Fred Jameson, Robert Jameson, Louis Wahl, Byron Sorrells and James Vasey.

Interment was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

EMPLOYED AT HOSPITAL
Keith Webster of Versailles, Ill., has accepted a position as maintenance man at the Jacksonville State hospital, effective Wednesday.

INJURED BY CAR

JUDITH PINKERTON

Little Judith Kay Pinkerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pinkerton of the New Providence neighborhood south of White Hall, is improving from serious injuries suffered when struck by an automobile.

Her great grandfather, F. E. Pinkerton, lost his life in the same accident.

The small girl, who will be three years old May 25, has been removed from the Boyd Memorial hospital at Carrollton to her home. Her condition is reported as improving steadily.

The injured child is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Phillips, 135 West Walnut street. She and Mr. Pinkerton were struck as they crossed U. S. Route 67 to go to the mailbox. The aged man lived only a few hours.

Births
Dr. and Mrs. Francis Angel, 1101 South Diamond street, are parents of a daughter born at Passavant hospital at 11:13 a.m. Tuesday.

Social Events
Miss DeMotte Describes Conditions in Orient
Miss Amelia DeMotte, guest speaker, gave an interesting account of conditions in the Orient at the meeting of the Woman's Missionary society of Westminster Presbyterian church, held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Andrew O. Harris, rural route six, Jacksonville.

Miss DeMotte read excerpts from the letters of her niece, Mrs. Sherwood Eddy, who with her distinguished husband has been making a tour of the world. They observed conditions in Japan, Korea, China, India and other countries. The letters spoke regrettably of the advance of communism in many places, but gave some brighter views of life in other respects, especially in Japan.

He Can't Give Money Away-- In Baltimore

Baltimore—(AP)—Want to give money away? Don't come to Baltimore to try it. William Bond and Charles McCordel made a bet the other day after Bond mused aloud that money was so cheap nowadays you couldn't give it away. McCordel, thought otherwise, and backed up his thinking with a $5 bill. Then, in broad daylight, they began walking a stipulated three blocks. McCordel courteously offered a $1 bill to the first pedestrian they met.

The first pedestrian glared and wouldn't accept. They stopped some more. Several already had a buck. Several figured McCordel had a gimmick. He tried ten times and found no taker. The eleventh, however, took McCordel. He was a cop who formed a notion that McCordel was trying to move the dollar into the other direction, for reasons of his own. So McCordel, who lives at Norris-town, Pa., was hailed into magistrate's court. The charge: Panhandling. McCordel told his strange story. The magistrate dismissed the charge. The buck wound up in the police poor box. Peanuts are variously known as earthnuts, monkeynuts, oilnuts, groundnuts, goobers and pindas.

Wheels Start Rolling for Operation Opportunity

Drucie Snyder, daughter of Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, christens a genuine covered wagon, symbol of the big 1949 Savings Bonds Opportunity drive, on the steps of the Treasury building in Washington. Thirty similar wagons will tour the cities of the nation to dramatize the billion-dollar bond-selling campaign.

The United States has almost doubled its pre-war output of peanuts. Production in India and China, the other two biggest producers, was greater last year than before the war.

The United States did not develop commercial production of peanuts until after the Civil War when their food value was emphasized by the short rations of the time.

U. N. Board Studies Population Increases

Geneva—(AP)—The spectacular reduction in death rates in the last two years and the steady increase of population in many parts of the world may lead to a stupendous problem in social and economic readjustment, some sociologists of the United Nations believe.

The World Health Organization reported recently that the area of the world in which deaths are recorded is "enjoying the lowest mortality ever recorded." While this reduction is most pronounced in Europe, a similar reduction was recorded in India, Ceylon and Japan. Although the rate remains comparatively high in Egypt, there has been a reduction there too.

The United Nations Population Commission has given "first priority" to a study of the interrelationship of economic, social and population changes. Officials here say this is a major scientific study. The commission will seek to discover the conditions under which populations grow faster than the economic resources of the area involved. They want to know also what steps can be taken to keep population growth within bounds. A study already is under way in India where the population increased by 50,000,000 persons between 1930 and 1940.

The population commission, although well aware that its study will take years, hopes to obtain information which will help improve the welfare of the world's people. The secretariat of the commission is engaged in a survey of all available literature and statistics on the subject from which it will soon prepare a summary for the commission. One official, in trying to put the problem of the commission in lay terms, said it was to discover "how economic and social policies may be used to influence population changes so as to avoid unfortunate results." The ideal, proportional relationship between population and economic resources, is "such an abstraction it has no meaning," this official said. "If everything were static, then we could determine what should be the proper number of people to be provided with the best possible living conditions," he said. "But that is unrealistic."

A paper submitted to the commission says "the entire make-up of society is in a state of continual change. The economic, demographic and social structure rarely remains constant. Changes in any one of its components are accompanied by changes in the others." The population commission is seeking the key to a better living for the people of the world in the exact working of these components and their effect on each other. The experts point to Java as an illustration of the problem. The Dutch have been in Java for a century. They have been raising the conditions of living improving agricultural methods and modernizing the country. But the population has increased enormously, perhaps as a result of these improvements, and it is regarded as debatable whether the people are better off than they were before.

RED'S PAPER DEPLORES FACTORY TALK

Berlin—(A)—Workers in Russian-occupied eastern Germany talk too much during working hours, says the communist newspaper "Maerkische Volksstimme," published at Potsdam.

"The workers talk too much and inflict extensive damage upon our national prosperity," said the paper. It told the 5,000,000 Russian zone workers that they waste twelve minutes of their daily work hours by talking, thus causing a loss of 300 million marks of national property a year.

Carrollton Music Students To Give Spring Festival

Carrollton — The annual spring festival presented by the music department of the Carrollton high school will be given Tuesday, May 17, at 8 p. m. in the school gymnasium.

The festival will consist of two parts, the first of which will be made up of light opera numbers by American composers. The second part will feature the immortal music of Stephen Foster.

Solos, ensembles, choruses, orchestral and dance numbers will make a

CAN OPENER FREES PUP

Nottingham, England—(P)—A six-week-old pup named Pat put his head through a metal hole in the base of a water heater. He couldn't pull it out.

His owners, Mr. and Mrs. E. Robinson, and a couple of workmen pulled and pulled — gently — but couldn't get him unstuck. Then they studied and studied.

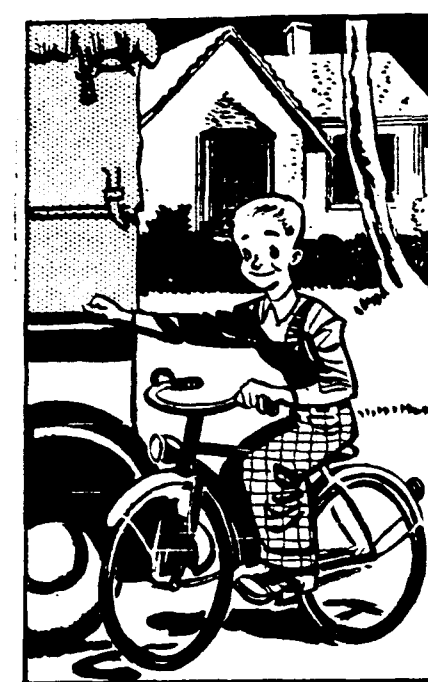

Finally somebody got a bright idea and freed him with a simple twist of a can opener.

Remember These Do's and Dont's of Bike Safety

Springtime means bike time all over the country. And bike time means accidents, injuries and even death if youngsters are careless and take unnecessary chances "on the road." Here are some do's and don't suggested by the National Safety Council for safe cycling.

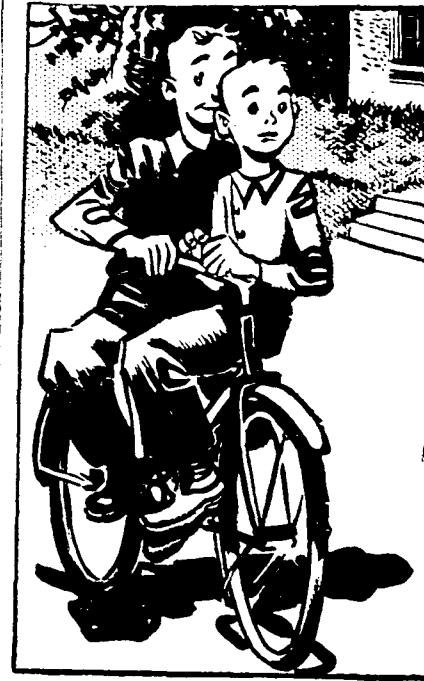

DO use arm signals to warn those behind you of your intentions. Stop or turn. Bicyclists must follow road rules just like motorists.

DON'T hitch to moving vehicles of any kind. This is one of the most dangerous bike stunts, takes many lives and brings countless injuries.

DO have a dependable headlight on front and a good reflector on rear for necessary night riding. Remember—risk goes up as the sun goes down.

DON'T carry passengers on the crossbar or handlebar. Don't break this rule, even for your best girl. This is one of the chief causes of crack-ups.

DO ride single file on the extreme right side of road. Riding abreast or weaving in and out of traffic confuses motorists, boosts chance of accidents.

DON'T ride bike on sidewalks when there are pedestrians or playing children. Dismounting and walking your bicycle around them means safety.

Mothers Honored At White Hall

White Hall—At a special Mother's day service at the First Christian church, Mrs. Beatty, mother of Mrs. F. F. Barnett, received the potted plant for being the oldest mother present; Mrs. Virginia McClay, for being the youngest mother present; Mrs. Frances Kniffen, for having the youngest child present; and Mrs. Edward Gooch, Jr., for having the most members of her family present.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gooch, Sr., of Litchfield spent the week end with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gooch, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neece spent Sunday in St. Louis. They have as their guest Mrs. Neece's father, Mr. Newberry, who is also completely recovered from a major surgical operation. He expects to remain for a two week visit.

Dr. and Mrs. F. N. McLaren spent Sunday in Ipa where they met Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McLaren of Peoria, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaren of Springfield and Mrs. Martha Hagar and children in a family reunion.

Dr. and Mrs. McLaren recently attended the West Central District Convention in Carlinville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Deshazer and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Branson in Macomb.

Arenzville Couple Celebrates Golden Wedding Sunday

Arenzville — The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huppe, who were married near Arenzville 50 years ago Tuesday, was celebrated at the family home Sunday.

Henry Huppe and Lucinda Roegge were married on May 10, 1899. Mrs. Lydia Lovekamp and Julius Witte were the attendants and both were present for the day.

The centerpiece of the dining room table was a three-tier wedding cake decorated with golden tapers. Cut flowers decorated the house. These bouquets include 50 yellow roses, a gift of their children, and yellow snapdragons given by friends of the couple.

Mrs. Huppe wore a corsage of yellow roses tied with a gold ribbon, and Mr. Huppe wore a yellow rose. They are the parents of six living children: Arthur and William of Arenzville, Minnie Carlis of Virginia, Alma Vette of Moorhead, Minn., Edna Lotter of Chicago and Norma of Beardstown. They have 14 grand children and two great-grandchildren. Their children gave them a radio and table. They also received many gifts and messages of congratulations from their friends.

Guests included William Roegge, Mrs. Emma Roegge, Miss Laura Roegge, Mrs. Emma Korsmeyer, Mrs. Lydia Lovekamp, Mr. and Mrs. William Huppe of Beardstown, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Witte, the Rev. and Mrs. Neundorff and family, Mrs. Herman Vette of Moorhead, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Lotter and family of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carlis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schone and son, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anderson and son of Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. William Huppe and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huppe and son, Robert Krohe and Norma Huppe of Beardstown.

FRANKLIN

Franklin — The Franklin Legion Auxiliary met in the Methodist church basement Monday evening. The hostesses were Mrs. Orlean Sauer, Mrs. Dorothy Keplinger and Mrs. Bergschneider. Fifty tray favors were made for the Veterans' hospital.

Wednesday evening the Franklin Rebekah Lodge will have the honor of introducing the president of the Illinois state assembly, Mrs. Pansy Huskerners, at the 20th district meeting at Chatham. A bus has been chartered for the trip and 24 members of the lodge will attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Keplinger, Mrs. Marian Keplinger, Dick Keplinger and Mrs. O. W. Gould drove over to Ashland Sunday afternoon to attend the dedication of the new pipe organ at the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brauer and family and Mrs. Edna Loughary of near Jacksonville, attended the Clifford Bryant Funeral Sunday and called on Mrs. Loughary's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Gould.

Mrs. Mary Hocking, assistant post mistress, has been ill this week and unable to attend work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dahman and children and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rolston and children had their dinner at the Outing club Sunday. The Outing grounds was well filled with visitors from adjacent villages.

Jean-Jose Valette an elementary teacher from Paris, France, inspected the Franklin Schools Monday. He is being taken on a tour of Morgan county schools by County Supt. John Deem. His interview was very interesting to Franklin teachers and pupils.

10 ways better...Permalube!
—the all-round long-lasting motor oil

Note: To be classed as premium, a motor oil must have certain proved qualities designated by the American Petroleum Institute. In simple terms, a premium motor oil must be fortified against harmful changes during use—changes which cause varnish, sludge and bearing corrosion. When you buy Permalube, you get a motor oil that fully meets these requirements—and then goes out and beats them 10 ways!

● Permalube is the all-round, long-lasting, premium-plus motor oil. In the engine of your car, Permalube never quits. It's long on mileage and short on acid-forming tendency. It actually keeps your engine clean. It fights heat, it wards off wear and greatly lengthens engine life. It cuts oil consumption to the bone!

When you buy premium-price oil, why not get premium-plus quality?

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY: Four lonely women, chosen through a matrimonial club, are candidates to be bride of Henry Gough Harding, creator of a "New Eden" to rescue the rest of the world on Spear Island. But already there are many cross currents stirring on the island. Harding does not seem to notice these. Nor that Bea Cosgrove is not really the spinster school teacher she pretends to be. Instead, Harding gives her the history of the island to read. This tells of a board of gold in the "Cave of Gosses" from which sounds emerge due to the action of wind and water on rock. That night a storm hits the island. And a face is seen at the door.

IX
THEN they were all in the main room and all could see Harding unbarred the door and a gust of wind pushed a staggering girl inside. "She's hurt!" Bea snapped. Lilly Warren reached the girl first, put her arms around her. "The other—outside," the girl gasped. "Please help them." The halter and shorts she wore were shredded, her blond hair was matted, sand filled. Harding and Mabel Jones went out into the windy dark. Bea Cosgrove saw Lilly Warren give the newcomer a drink, saw the change of expression on her face when she looked up at her benefactor.

Lilly Warren said sharply, "Be quiet, you're all right now. Just be quiet." The others, accompanied by Harding and Mabel Jones, entered. The two men were George Bascombe and Fred Sillwell, and the girl carried between them was Mollie Stark. Nona McGuire, the girl who first came to the house, gave their names. Fred's principal clothing was a bulging money belt, while George's once white pants were stained and in rags, showing the source of the blood-stained bandage around Mollie's thigh. Harding relieved them of their burden, carried the whimpering and nearly unconscious girl to the long table.

she stepped forward dutifully. Miss Stark's eyes opened. For just a few seconds Bea looked into them. She recoiled involuntarily. "Not you," Mollie said. Her eyes half-closed again. "The nice man." Harding bent down. He tried to kiss her forehead, but she moved and he found her lips instead. Mollie's arms tightened for an instant behind his neck, then relaxed and dropped to the bed. "Sleep now," she announced. "Safe."

Harding stood up. He watched Bea pull up the covers, tuck them loosely around the patient. He put a finger to his lips, moved toward the door on tiptoe. In the main room, Miss Cosgrove cleared away the instruments, and folded up the blood-stained table coverings. Harding stood staring at nothing. "She's sweet, isn't she," he said at last.

BATHS, a green gown for Nona McGuire, and overlarge Harding shirts and pants for the men, improved their appearance. Fred and George tossed blame for the accident back and forth.

"Yackety yack, yackety yack," Nona said impatiently. "For the last week on the Gullwing, I had to listen to you two argue. Can't you let up here?" "Sorry we bore you," Fred Sillwell said. "I still say we should have taken on more fuel," George insisted. He kept blinking, trying to see without his glasses. "If you'd started the auxiliary when I told you," Fred said. "If I'd gone down to start it, I'd have gone on down," George pointed out. "No, we should have had more fuel." "More fuel?" Nona snorted. "We should have had a sailor along." "We hit the island right on the nose didn't we?" Sillwell demanded. "You've got something there," Nona admitted. "But did you have to hit it so hard?" (To Be Continued)

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How Would You Say It?

Curley Lawson's cousin from back East and a few of us got talking when he was here visiting, and I couldn't help noticing how different he said things.

For instance, he said, "Lifting that 200-pound bag of cement almost killed me." "You mean sack of cement?" asks Curley. (That's the way we'd say it.) "No," interrupts young Elliott who'd spent a lot of time down South, "He means a 'poke of cement'."

It was good for a chuckle, anyhow. Bag, sack or poke—we knew.

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit

If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!

Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead: Every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—none each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the lower digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally.

When worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit. Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 50¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

ELECTION NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on Saturday the 28th day of May, A.D. 1949, in the City of Jacksonville, in the County of Morgan and State of Illinois, an Election will be held for the purpose of voting for or against the following Ordinance:

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO THE AMOUNT OF $27,000.00 FOR PARK IMPROVEMENT PURPOSES AND PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT THEREOF

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF JACKSONVILLE, MORGAN COUNTY, ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1.
That for the purpose of providing funds for park improvement purposes, being the construction and improvement of the causeway across Morgan Lake in Nichols Park and for other capital improvements in said park there shall be and there is hereby authorized to be issued Park Improvement Bonds to the amount of Twenty Seven Thousand ($27,000.00) Dollars, consisting of Twenty Seven (27) bonds of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each, to be dated June 1, 1949, each of said bonds bearing interest evidenced by coupons at One and one half

(1½) per cent per annum payable on December 1, 1950 and semi-annually thereafter, said bonds maturing serially as follows:

Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars on the 1st day of December, 1950;
Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars on the 1st day of December, 1951;
Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars on the 1st day of December, 1952;
Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars on the 1st day of December, 1953;
Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars on the 1st day of December, 1954;
that the bonds hereby authorized shall be substantially in the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ILLINOIS
County of Morgan

No. ——— City of Jacksonville $1,000.00
Park Improvement Bond
KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS: That the City of Jacksonville, in the County of Morgan and State of Illinois, acknowledges itself to owe and be indebted, and for value received, hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof, One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars, on the 1st day of December, 19—, with interest thereon from the date hereof at the rate of One and one half (1½) per cent per annum payable on the first day of December, 1950, and semi-annually thereafter on the first days of June and December in each year on presentation and surrender of the annexed interest coupons as they become due. For the prompt payment of this Bond, principal and interest, the full faith, credit and resources of the said City of Jacksonville, Illinois, are hereby irrevocably pledged.

BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ON THIS BOND are hereby made payable in lawful money of the United States at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Jacksonville, Illinois.
This bond is one of a series of bonds of like tenor, except as to maturity, issued for the purpose of providing funds for Park Improvement Purposes, being the construction and improvement of the causeway across Morgan Lake in Nichols Park and for other capital improvements in said park, being a park owned and controlled by the City of Jacksonville under the authority of the statutes of the State of Illinois, and of an ordinance of the City of Jacksonville duly passed, and it is further authorized by a majority of the voters voting on said proposition, at a special election duly held in and for said city on the 28th day of May, A.D. 1949.

IT IS HEREBY REPRESENTED AND RECITED that all acts, conditions and things required by the Laws and Constitution of the State of Illinois to be done precedent to and in the issuing of this Bond have been done, happened and performed in regular and due form, as required by law and that the total indebtedness of the City of Jacksonville, including this bond and the issue of which it forms a part, does not exceed the Statutory or Constitutional limitations, and that provision has been made for the collection of direct annual tax, in addition to all other taxes, on all the taxable property of said city, to pay the interest hereon as the same falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal hereof at maturity.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, THE CITY OF JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, by its City Council has caused this Bond to be sealed with its corporate seal, signed by its Mayor, and attested by its Clerk, and has caused the annexed interest coupons to be executed with the facsimile signatures of the said officers this first day of June, A.D. 1949.

The sum of Five Thousand Thirty Seven and 50/100 ($5,337.50) Dollars for the year 1953, for interest and principal;

That forthwith upon the approval of this ordinance by the voters of said city voting on the question at an election to be called and held for that purpose, a copy hereof certified by the City Clerk, which certificate shall recite that the ordinance has been passed by the City Council, published and approved by a majority of the voters of said city voting on the question at an election called for that purpose, shall be filed with the County Clerk of Morgan County, who shall in and for each of the years 1949 to 1953, inclusive, ascertain the rate per cent required to produce the aggregate tax hereinabove provided to be levied in each of said years, respectively, and extend the same for collection on the tax books in connection with other taxes levied in each of said years and in said City, but in addition to and in excess of all other taxes.

SECTION 3.
That the bonds hereby authorized shall be issued and sold as the proceeds are needed for the purpose authorized by this ordinance.

SECTION 4.

That the bonds authorized by this ordinance are not to be issued unless this ordinance is approved by a majority of the legal voters of the City of Jacksonville voting on the question at an election to be held in the City of Jacksonville, Illinois.

Passed by the City Council of the City of Jacksonville, Illinois, at a regular meeting on the 9th day of May, A.D. 1949.

Approved this 9th day of May, A.D. 1949.

East St. Louis A Leading Rail Center; Now Serves 21 Lines

(Editors: Here is another in a series of stories on Illinois cities.) East St. Louis, Ill., May 12.—(P)—East St. Louis is a city of workmen who move freight, make steel, process meat and do the heavy work of many industries.

The city was started in the early 1800's as a Mississippi river ferry terminal, a stop-over on the route to St. Louis and the west.

When the railroads came, the population boomed and East St. Louis became one of the country's leading railroad centers. It now serves 21 rail lines. In 1948, 1,435,000 railroad cars were handled on the interchange for the East St. Louis gateway. In the last national census, the population was 75,609.

East St. Louis' extensive rail and water transport facilities have attracted a wide variety of industries. Steel, aluminum ore, gasoline, glass, machinery and chemicals are produced in the city or in its immediate vicinity. Nearby stockyards rival those of Chicago.

Politics is the city's favorite sport. Well-developed machines, dissident factions and vicious independent candidates provide fireworks at every election.

East St. Louis is known as a union man's town. The AFL, CIO, Railroad Brotherhood and Independent City, each of which said wards has been designated as a voting precinct by the City Council of said City for the purpose of holding said Election, and the polling places for each of said voting precincts shall be as follows:

Sprawled along the low east bank of the Mississippi opposite St. Louis, the city has a 45 foot levee for a goosetrip. It was situated on such low ground in its early days that downtown streets had to be raised 12 feet. This immense operation, which climaxed a long political fight, and the building of the levee helped the city to survive.

Points of interest for tourists, in addition to the river and industrial plants, include the Fades bridge, a three-arched steel and masonry span dating back to 1868, and a $10,000,000 city bridge which is under construction.

Cahokia 5 Miles South

Within a radius of five miles are two points of national historic interest. The village of Cahokia, five miles to the south, is the oldest permanent settlement in the Mississippi Valley. Its 250th anniversary will be celebrated with a pilgrimage starting Sunday.

The Holy Family church at Cahokia, built in 1739 and now being restored, is a classic example of French colonial architecture.

Monk's Mound, a massive man-made hill, rises 125 feet from the flat bottomlands northeast of the city. Built by Prehistoric tribes, it was the site of a trappist monastery around 1815. It now is part of a state park which includes a museum of Indian relics found in the area.

Grand Marais state park, just outside the city limits, is another tourist Mecca.

Crimson Crew Edges Wilson's Club 6-5 In Intra-City Game

The Crimson batsmen have had a lot to thank for their close 6 to 5 victory over their friendly cross-town rivals in yesterday's game on the J.H.S. field.

Jacksonville trailed throughout the game until the seventh inning when they tied the score by pushing two runs across the plate.

I.S.D. jumped off to a early lead in the first inning by nipping pitcher Chapman for three runs. J.H.S. almost got back on even terms in the half of the inning but fell short by one run.

Gano replaced Chapman, Crimson starter, in the third and allowed only two runs until replaced by a pinch-batter in the seventh. I.S.D. pushed a run across in the fourth and fifth innings to command a 5-3 lead. They held this lead until the seventh inning when the roof fell in and the Crimson noted the score with a two-run rally.

It was the eighth that proved fatal to I.S.D. Walker started the winning drive by reaching first on an error. The next batter, Bunch, was hit by one of Hood's fast balls, thus putting men on first and second. Williams the next batter drew four wide ones filling the bases. With the bases loaded, Tuckman allowed one of Hood's pitches to get past him for a pass ball, and Walker scored easily from third with the winning run.

Hood pitched a nice game allowing only six hits. He proved to be quite effective until the seventh when Jacksonville tied the score with two runs, and getting an unearned run in the eighth.

Coach Kraushaar employed three pitchers for the fray. Chapman started, but lasted only two innings and was replaced by Gano in the third. Gano lasted until the seventh when he was taken out of the lineup for a pinch-batter in the seventh inning rally. Wright came in and held I.S.D. scoreless in the top-half of the extra inning.

Coach Kraushaar takes his Crimson nine to Meredosias this afternoon for a tilt with the river-town's high school nine.

Spahn Wins Fourth For Boston; Beats Cardinals 7 To 0

Boston, May 11—(P)—Lefty Warren Spahn gained his fourth win of the season, plus his second shutout, for the Boston Braves by blanking the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-0, with a three-hit performance tonight before a chilled 14,419 crowd. The Bravesmen clinched matters with a five-run uprising in the first inning.

Spahn has been charged with but one defeat to date.

The only Red Birds to connect against him were Chuck Diering, Red Schoendienst, and Marty Marion. Spahn had six strikeout victims. St. Louis' 000 000 000—0 3 2 Boston 510 000 10x—7 8 1

Graham Sparks Browns To 5-4 Win Over Athletics

St. Louis, May 11—(P)—Jack Graham doubled twice, batting in two runs and scoring twice himself to lead the St. Louis Browns to a 5 to 4 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics tonight.

The A's big gun was Sam Chapman who homered in the second inning and singled twice later. Graham also had a single.

Bob Shantz struck out nine Browns in the game.

Drews struck out the last two Philadelphia men to hold his one run lead.

Senators Take 9th Straight From Detroit 11 To 1

Detroit, May 11—(P)—The Washington Senators turned in the ninth straight win of their western road trip as they pummeled the Detroit Tigers for an 11 to 1 decision today.

The Senators jumped all over Detroit starting pitcher Stubby Overmire for five runs in the first inning. They continued their 14-hit attack against his three successors.

Paul Calvert and Dick Welteroth gave the Tigers only three hits, two of them coming in the sixth inning when Detroit scored its lone run.

Calvert started for Washington but had to retire at the start of the fifth inning. He developed a blister on the index finger of his pitching hand. He had a one-hitter up to that time.

Big Ed Robinson led the Senators batting attack. He hit a three-run homer in the first inning and added two singles. It was his fifth four-bagger of the season.

Rookie Johnny Groth of the Tigers went hitless in three trips to the plate, making the fourth game in a row that he has failed to hit safely.

Indians Defeat Pace-Setting New York Yankees 3-2

Cleveland, May 11—(P)—The Cleveland Indians snapped out of their slump tonight by trimming the front-running New York Yankees, 3 to 2. Left fielder Dale Mitchell crossed the plate with the winning run in the seventh inning on a wild pitch by losing pitcher Bob Porterfield.

Bob Lemon started on the mound for Cleveland but it was only a formality. He received a torn fiber in a muscle above the left hip during the pre-game warmup and pitched to only one man because his name already was in the lineup.

Then aging Al Benton took over and allowed the Yanks only five hits for seven innings. He went out in the seventh for a pinch hitter but was credited with the victory.

White Sox Score In Every Inning; Whip Bosox 12-8

Chicago, May 11—(P)—The Chicago White Sox scored in every inning here today to blast Boston, 12-8, and climb back to a .500 percentage rating in American league standings.

The White Sox blended 15 assorted hits with five walks, a wild pitch and balk, plus four errors—three by Bob Foy—to post their 11th win in 22 games.

Tex Hughson, first of four Red Sox pitchers, was charged with the loss. The victory was starter Bill Wight's third straight decision although he was replaced in the sixth by Howie Judson.

Ted Williams, who struck out twice in his first four appearances at the plate against Wight, hit his seventh home run off Judson with a mate aboard in the eighth.

Chicago scoring started in the first when Gerry Scala tripled and scored when Catcher Birdie Tebbetts' dropped Vern Stephens' relay throw from Dominic DiMaggio for an error.

Thereafter the White Sox scored a single run in the second; two in the third; one in the fourth; two more in the fifth, and single runs in the sixth and seventh before a three-run spurt in the eighth.

Gus Zernial and Cass Michaels got three hits apiece to pace the winners. Zernial hammered a triple, double and single; Michaels two singles and a triple.

Bennet Roodhouse is a husky weight star for coach S. N. Walker's Maroon thincade. He has led his team in track meets consistently with wins in the shot put, and discus heave. He owns the best shot distance in central Illinois this season.

Besides track, this White Hall senior also makes things tough for his namesake town on the gridiron. The chunky lad plays a mean tackle, and was selected on the all-conference first eleven last fall.

Roodhouse expects to relieve the Ivy league of a confusing and embarrassing situation next year when he enrolls in the University of Illinois.

Routt Team Finishes Season With 18 To 14 Win Over Bluffs Club

The Routt Rocket nine rocketed the invading crew back on its heels. They added 8 in the second, went scoreless in the third and gained a single tally in the fourth. The Routt 18-14 victory over the Bluffs Bluejays on the State Hospitable diamond yesterday afternoon. The win ended the local nine's chart for the '49 season.

Although the Bluffs hurler allowed only eight Routt batters to hit safely, plenty of Jacksonville runners reached first by virtue of enemy miscues. Five straight errors in the Bluffs infield gave the Rockets a big boost in their big 8-run second inning.

Paul Kennedy, Routt senior, did the flinging for the local club. He gave up 9 hits which helped the Bluffs squad gain a 14-run total.

The east-side club uncorked counters in the first inning to set

Winchester Nine Whips Merdosia

Winchester—Howard Lester's Wildcat baseballers tamped the Merdosia ball club 10 to 4 on the Scott county diamond yesterday.

Left O'Donnell twirled for the winning nine, keeping 7 enemy hits well scattered. He did all right in the hitting department too, slapping out a triple and a double to help his club count its 10 tallies.

Northrup was the losing pitcher.

Twelve Schools Enter District Golf Meet, Play Here Saturday

Twelve high school golf teams, including two Jacksonville entries, will tee off in a district meet on the Nichols park links Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Carl Pempek, whose J.H.S. team will act as host to the event, has entered six Crimson golfers in the meet. Roy Cooper, Bill Hapke, Don Beemer, Henry Lindstromberg, Ray Eldridge and Gene Kirkham will wear the high school colors Saturday.

Routt Golfers Enter
Sonny Lonergan and A. J. Spreen will represent Routt high school in the district affair. Although both these lads are well known for their basketball prowess, neither has ever participated in a high school golf meet. Coach Stroud informs us, however, that both Rocket stars have played plenty of golf on their own and will be in there gunning for

Cubs Come From Behind To Whip Phillies 4 To 2

Philadelphia, May 11—(P)—The Chicago Cubs came from behind to force to go into extra innings before downing a fighting Roodhouse club 10 to 9 in the southside park's feature softball attraction last night.

"Everybody hit" seemed to be the theme of the ball game as single after single, interspersed with a frequent extra-base blow, rattled off the bats of visitors and hosts alike.

The Moose bunch gathered a grand total of 4 hits and the visitors garnered 8 safeties.

Both clubs scored a pair of runs in the opening chapter. Roodhouse fell behind 4 to 1 in the second frame when the Moose club repeated its first inning performance while the invaders could gather only a single tally.

However, the Greene county boys jumped into a big 7-5 lead at the conclusion of the third frame as they counted four markers in that inning.

Meanwhile the Moose nine kept pecking away at enemy hurler, Jackson, scoring 2 runs one inning and a single tally the next.

The local club, behind 9-7 going into the sixth stanza, picked up the brace of runs they lacked and tied the ball game up. Neither side scored in the seventh and the tilt was forced into an extra inning.

Moose flinger Lynn, who had replaced Young, the starting pitcher, in the fourth inning, held the Roodhouse nine scoreless in the first of the eighth. Moose hitters took their turn at the bat and combined three quick hits to score P. Fox with the winning run.

The Myers Bros. "A" league entry downed the Ruh and Durocher club 6-5 in the preliminary tilt.

Games tonight will see the Pepsi Cola and American Legion nines tangle in the 7:30 contest, while the House of Clay and K. of C. meet in the 8:45 go.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, May 11—(P)—Hogs ruled unevenly strong to weak today, cattle were steady to 25 cents lower, and sheep steady to 25 cents higher.

Barrows and gilts grading good and choice merited $16.75 and up to $18.75 but one load reached $18.85 and a small lot hit $19. Sows sold from $14 to $16.25. An estimated 2,000 hogs were held over unsold.

Generally choice steers sold from $26.50 to $27.50 and the top of $27.75. Medium to low-good steers were $22.50 to $23.75 and good to choice $25.00 to $26.50. Heifers topped at $26.75, good to low-choice calves making $24 to $25.50. Good beef cows sold up to $21, sausage bulls to $22, and vealers to $26.50.

Choice yearling feeding steers went flatly at $25.50.

Best woolled lambs received $30, clipped kinds $29.50, and shorn ewes $13.

Included in the day's receipts were 8,000 hogs, 12,000 cattle, 500 calves, 500 sheep.

WHEAT, RYE ADVANCE; SOYBEANS, LARD SHOW LITTLE STRENGTH

Chicago, May 11—(P)—Wheat advanced today, the May contract going up more than a cent at times to its best price since the market broke on April 28. Smaller gains were made by new crop contracts.

The advance in wheat was more than matched by a sharp upturn in rye, which ran up for gains of about 5 cents at times. Ruying was based on agriculture department forecast for a crop of 21,552,000 bushels, down from both last year and the ten year average.

Soybeans and lard showed a little strength, but corn held small fractions under the previous close most of the day. Bookings of cash corn ran over 50,000 bushels.

Receipts were: wheat 34 cars, corn 60, oats 33 and soybeans 7.

Wheat closed 1 to 1 cent higher, May $2.23-24, corn was 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, May $1.34-34 1/4, oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 66 1/2, rye was 5-5 1/2 higher, May $1.32, soybeans were 1/2 to 2 cents higher, May $2.31-23 1/4, and lard was 7 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $11.90.

Home Repair

Cost Estimated

New York—(P)—Keeping the nation's non-farm houses in prime condition will cost American home owners between $2,500,000,000 and $3,100,000,000 during 1949.

That sum is being spent on roofing, painting, carpentry work and other repairs this year, according to estimates by the Tile Council of America.

Painting and redecorating, inside and out, are expected to account for about $30 of every $100 of home repair expenditures, the report revealed. Repair and replacement of heating equipment will take $25, and roofing about $15, on the average.

Installation of showers, tiling of bathrooms and replacement of piping will take $6 out of each $100, and carpentry work will account for the same amount. Miscellaneous repairs will account for the rest of the theoretic $100, according to the report.

Most common of all home repair work is painting, the report showed. Either the exterior or some room of the interior is painted in about a third of all U.S. homes in every average year.

CLEANUP AFTER INDIAN RIOT IS SLOW WORK
Amritsar, India —(P)— This East Punjab city is still clearing up debris left by communal rioting two years ago.

Civilians have removed nearly 9,000,000 cubic feet of rubble from streets and houses inside the walled city. 40 per cent of which was damaged when Muslims and Sikhs fought each other. Thus far $330,000 has been spent on clearance work.

Approximately 200,000 refugees have been rehabilitated in Amritsar. Officials estimate another 50,000 will be accommodated when the entire damaged area has been cleared.

Today pin money usually means small amounts: in the days of Athens and Rome, it meant money for expensive pins and other jewelry.

Clay Tablets Dug From Temple Ruins Shown To Clubmen

Clay tablets dug from the ruins of temples and other buildings in the ancient city of Nineveh, which are estimated to be 6,000 years old, were displayed by Dr. Daniel Kerr, professor of religion at Illinois College, as he addressed the Optimist club Wednesday at the Dunlap hotel.

One particularly valuable piece unearthed by archaeologists, and shown by Dr. Kerr, is a section of stone pillar upon which a peace treaty is inscribed.

Smaller tablets have been found to be business contracts, tax statements, and other business records, Dr. Kerr told of the process by which the ancient tablets were carried on business through the medium of writing on clay tablets.

"Business men of today who walk into offices equipped with typewriters, adding machines and other modern inventions, and dictate letters to secretaries, are merely following the routine of business men thousands of years ago," said the speaker. "Instead of saying 'take a letter,' the ancient business man said 'take a letter,' to his secretary or scribe."

Dr. Kerr said excavations in Babylon, Egypt, Rome, and other ancient cities show that people living several thousand years ago had well organized systems of business and commerce.

Research has revealed that business in those days was carried on in orderly fashion, much as it is today.

Dr. Kerr was introduced by Rev. C. Frank Janssen, program chairman.

He is survived by one son, Louis of Virgen; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Rohrer of Springfield; two grand-children and two nieces.

The body will be removed at noon Thursday from the Berry Funeral Home at Girard to the Methodist church where services will be conducted at 3 p. m. with Rev. F. L. Nickel. Burial will be in Waverly East cemetery.

Corporations Sell Stock Holdings In National Bus Lines

New York, May 11.—Three corporations have disposed of their common stock holdings in National City Lines.

An investment banking group headed by Reynolds & Co. yesterday made a secondary offering of 133,456 shares of the stock, which was oversubscribed within a few hours of the offering.

The sellers were General Motors Corp., Phillips Petroleum Co. and Standard Oil Co. of California. General Motors owned the largest block of the offering.

National City Lines is a holding company controlling a number of local transportation companies in various cities throughout the country.

Last month a federal judge in Chicago fined National City Lines and a number of other defendants $5,000 each on charges of conspiring to violate anti-trust laws through agreements covering purchases of buses, tires, oil products and other supplies. The defendants included General Motors, Phillips Petroleum and California Standard.

FARMING AND EROSION DESTROYS GOOD LAND

John Millar of Winchester, Scott county soil technician, (left) and Larry Hall, assistant of the Morgan county district, check the results of an interesting experiment by Albert Klingebiel, Illinois soil scientist, at the Clyde North farm east of Winchester Tuesday.

Klingebiel used two buckets equipped with a small outlet slightly below the brim. One bucket was filled with soil taken from an old fence row; the other was filled with soil taken from a level field "which has been farmed well, but farmed pretty hard."

Klingebiel then sprayed a half-gallon of water on each bucket. Little of the water was absorbed by the cultivated soil (left); twice as much was absorbed by the soil which still possesses its original tilth.

Worst of all, there was much more sediment deposited in the left hand jar, indicating that good soil structure is most important in erosion and water problems.

The demonstrator advocated the use of deep-rooted legumes and grasses to restore the soil to its former qualities and capabilities. Alfalfa and broom grass mixtures are especially recommended for this area.

Soil conservation technicians from eight counties of west central Illinois attended, with District Conservationist John T. Whelan of Jacksonville serving as field director.

Mr. Klingebiel said the 339 acre farm operated for the last 11 years by Truman Scott was "an almost perfect outdoor laboratory."

The 240 crop acres and pasture lands carry both prairie and timber soils, and five of the seven soil types recognized by the S.C.S.

Excavations along a fence row that has probably never been farmed, at least it hasn't in the memory of any nearby residents, revealed 10 inches of loose, crumb-like topsoil.

Another excavation 15 feet away disclosed there were only 14 inches of the valuable material there—and even it had been seriously damaged by farming.

Like many other farms in this area, the steep slopes carries practically topsoil. The upper ridges show the yellow subsoil.

Even farmers who use recommended rotations and keep their land "in good shape" are destroying the texture of the soil through regular cultivation, Mr. Klingebiel asserted.

Flow Sole "Bottleneck" "In many fields we find the upper six or seven inches pretty lifeless. The tilth of the land has been destroyed; most of the nitrogen and much of the organic matter contained in the virgin soil has been lost. Yet the soil below is in good condition."

"The plow sole is the bottleneck, particularly on these fine Illinois dark colored prairie loams. The upper soil is so compacted, so deficient in nitrogen and organic matter, that it is unable to absorb enough water and air to carry the growing crop through the season. Lack of condition is largely responsible for excessive water run-off in the spring, poor drainage and those yellow corn leaves during August. Even the best land will be harder to work each year and will raise poorer crops as time goes on, despite the best work of our seed breeders."

"Harder To Work" Farmers who complain that the soil is "harder to work" than it was a generation ago are entirely right, Klingebiel said.

"It's harder to work because it's heavier. In one Ohio experiment land that had been farmed hard for 40 years weighed 82 pounds per cubic foot. Adjoining virgin soil weighed 65 pounds. The farmed land had lost about 15 per cent of its porosity, its ability to hold air and water," he stated.

Reduced topsoil will diminish considerably the yields of corn and soybeans, he continued. But land with little topsoil, if treated, will raise profitable crops of legume and grasses. He recommended separate rotations, so far as its practical, for the different types of soil.

"Some fields require little care beyond a good crop rotation. Others must be handled with great care to keep the soil fertile, working and at home."

Helena Dietz Wins Honor In National Art Competition

Miss Helena Dietz, daughter of Mrs. Lena Dixon Dietz of 964 E. College avenue, has been awarded honorable mention in the seventh, eighth and ninth grade division of the National Scholastic awards contest, sponsored by the Scholastic magazine.

Miss Dietz, a freshman at Jacksonville high school, is the art student of Miss Anna Doan. Her entry, a crayon etching, received first place in the regional competition at Peoria. The national judging was done at the Carnegie institute in Pittsburgh, Penn.

She has received a painting kit from the American Crayon company.

Five other Jacksonville students submitted work to the national contest.

$3,000,000 Voted To U. of I. For Cancer Hospital

Springfield, Ill., May 11.—(P)—The Senate voted 41-0 today for a bill giving the University of Illinois $3,000,000 to build a Chicago Medical Center hospital for cancer patients.

The bill also provides $1,250,000 for hospital operation. It was sent to the house.

It isn't in Governor Stevenson's budget. The building sum was cut from five to three million dollars in an effort to win his support.

The hospital would serve Illinoisans suffering from or threatened by cancer, and would conduct cancer research.

Stevenson's Democratic leader in the Senate protested. Senator William J. Connors of Chicago said he knows the hospital is "essential but the university didn't see fit to put it into its budget and it's folly when we don't know where we can get the money."

Senator A. L. Moravitz (D-Chicago), a chief sponsor, said the sum sought is "paltry when you consider the lives it can save."

Lectern Given To Westminster As Memorial

A carved walnut lectern with reading light and a large Bible were dedicated at the morning service at Westminster Presbyterian church last Sunday, given in memory of Mrs. Gunn by her children.

The Bible is beautifully bound in fine leather and is inscribed in gold to the memory of Mrs. Gunn, who was for more than 30 years a member of Westminster.

Dr. Arthur F. Ewert, pastor, made a brief prayer and the choir sang a hymn of dedication. Then the Rev. W. C. Meeker, pastor emeritus, spoke briefly of the service of Mrs. Gunn to Westminster, of her sterling Christian character, and her fine family of eight sons and daughters.

He dwelt especially on her work in the Sunday School, and stated that, up to the Sunday before her death, which occurred when she was 87, she had taught a class of young people in the Methodist church at Port Huron, Michigan, where she spent the last years of her life with her sister.

The lectern stood Sunday in the chancel of the church but will be used later, by the wish of the donors, in the Sunday School room, where Mrs. Gunn taught for so many years.

Predicts Increase In Sales Tax If Employment Lasts

Springfield, Ill., May 11.—(P)—An Illinois public aid official today predicted an increase in the state sales tax if unemployment continues to rise, state revenue to decline and public assistance programs expand.

Leslie G. Pfefferle of Springfield, a commission member, said the two per cent state sales levy would have to be boosted to "three, four or five cents to take care of the load."

"This welfare work is growing and growing and growing and eventually it is going to devour you unless you do something about it," Pfefferle told the House committee on public aid.

Emphasizing that he spoke for himself rather than as an Ipc member, Pfefferle declared: "Greater and greater direct assistance obligations are being placed upon the state and there is less and less community responsibility."

"If this keeps on, you'll never have manpower enough and money enough to provide the services and assistance that some people think you ought to provide."

TALL TALE Sydney, Australia, May 11.—(P)—Fish story.

Lions Minstrel Profits Go To New Passavant

M. R. Range, president of the board of trustees of Passavant Memorial area hospital, received a check for $1,534.81 from the Lions club when the members held a regular meeting last night at the Dunlap hotel.

The check represented the profits gained from the sixth successful Lions club minstrel. M. O. Mathews, general chairman of the minstrel committee, made the presentation.

He observed that in the initial Passavant hospital campaign the club had pledged a gift of $1,000 and that it had been paid with the exception of the final $200 installment.

The gift given by the club last night makes a total of $2,334.81 contributed to the new hospital fund.

Fred R. Bailey told of the plans for the Lions International convention which will be held in Chicago next week. Sixteen or more local Lions will make the trip Sunday, sharing a special car with the Springfield club delegation.

The club decided to enter a team in the civic league again this year. Richard Lukeman and Fred Goodey were named co-chairmen.

The program chairman, Dr. M. A. Sumner, introduced four I.S.B. musicians and their instructor, Fred G. Meyers. The instrumental quartet, two trumpets and two trombones, was composed of Bill Weston, Paxton; Robert Stephany, Chicago; William Mayo, St. Louis, and Gene Gaines, Chicago. They played several numbers, including Mendelssohn's Consolation; Barnby's Sweet and Low and Sibelius' Finlandia.

Weston's hot-lip rendition of "After You're Gone" especially pleased the group.

Rotary Club At Beardstown Will Hold Horse Show

Beardstown—The 29 classes in the Third Annual Beardstown Rotary Club Society Horse Show May 29-30 are filled with fine entries. One hundred of the nation's finest horses are entered, guaranteeing it to be one of the first rate shows of the season.

Bill Cunningham of Mexico, Mo., has been secured as judge. He is widely known as one of the best in the business, judging such large shows as the National and International.

Members of the club are going out of their way to provide ample accommodations for the exhibitors and spectators. They have a beautiful show ring of regulation size with fine lighting facilities and seating arrangements.

Prize money exceeds $2,300 with seven trophies and ribbons being offered for the various events, including gaited classes, fine harness, pleasure, roadsters, children's horsemanship, western, jumpers, etc.

The show will start Sunday afternoon, May 29, at 1 p. m. with a two mile long old time parade, featuring western horses with full western equipment, bands, floats, old time equipment—buggies, antiquated automobiles, clowns, etc. This should prove a high light of the show for the whole family. Anyone having an entry for this parade may notify W. L. McGinnis, Beardstown, Ill.

Summer Round-Up Set For May 23 At Murrayville

Murrayville Community Consolidated School District No. 45 will have its annual summer round-up Monday, May 23, at 1:30, at which time pre-school examinations will be given by staff members of the Morgan County Health department.

Parents having children who will be six years old before Dec. 1 are urged to have their children present for the examinations.

It is requested that each child be accompanied by one parent in order that a complete and accurate health record may be established.

White Hall Woman Feted At Dinner

White Hall—A family dinner was given at noon Sunday honoring Mrs. Emma Guthrie on Mother's Day at her home here. Those present included Mrs. Guthrie and her son Roy, Mrs. Bess Williams and son, Sam, Miss Nellie of Pleasant Hill, Mrs. Hubert Craddock, Patricia Ann and Mike, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hart, and Caryll Lulu Guthrie, all of Jacksonville, and Mrs. R. A. Rosa of White Hall, and several grand children.

A birthday dinner was given Sunday, honoring the 74th birthday anniversary of C. F. Shives, and also the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Otis Joutet. All of Mr. Shives' four children were present, including a Mr. and Mrs. Claude Shives and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Shives of Peoria. Mrs. Orville Guthrie and family of Pleasant Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Joutet of White Hall, all attended the dinner.
